

CAREER CARNIVAL

(DE)CODE IT!

A career in technology could take you almost anywhere – literally! Besides the very large companies that sell a variety of technology products (Microsoft, Apple, and Google, for example), there are opportunities in telecommunications, cybersecurity, software solutions, servers and other hardware, web design, game development and so much more. Or your technology journey may take you to a company outside of the “tech” industry since just about every field, from manufacturing to healthcare to education, has an important technology component. Are you ready to start your journey?
